Kearney at Newark

NEWARK, N J Sept 2—Kearney addressed about 6 000 persons, mostly workingmen at the military park in this city this evening A platform 6 feet square had been erected from which he spoke As usual he stripped off his coat and rolled up his sleeves before commencing A brass band was present Joseph A Bercher editor of the Greenback organ was chosen to preside He introduced Kearney who spoke for an hour and three-quarters. The audience was enthusiastic but orderly and applauded frequently Kearney said he wanted to talk as an ignorant man to ignorant men He had been charged with talking for money but he did not want to be classed with Henry Waters and Bread Beecher who charged a dollar to a dollar and a half to each listener He continued in the same strain as at other cities, denouncing local daily papers as slimy sheets of Newark, and the proprietors as slimy imps of hell, and praising the greenback organ Speaking of the lecherous bondholders he requested the reporters to spell it lecherous He ascribed present troubles to Republican and Democratic thieves who have oppressed the workingmen down to 20 cents and find their own soap He strongly advocated greenbacks saying with them we could sweep away the lecherous capitalists The yellow fever pestilence he said was due to congress, who had let the levees get rotten instead of employing the poor men to rebuild them He asked his audience whether they would vote the greenback labor ticket next fall, and to an affirmative, said that 15 000 men had voted to support the ticket, and therefore it must be elected. He then renewed the Chinese labor argument, repeated a story concerning a black crow, denounced Secretary Sherman saying the latter's recent speech was never delivered, urged active political work next November, and closed with political quotations. He used some epithets previously reported. At the mention of Butler's name he called for three cheers Altogether with the exception of local allusions his speech was little different from his others.

Bank Closed

The Farmers and Mechanics Bank of Savings closed its doors this morning and posted up a notice to the effect that the directors had ordered the bank into liquidation, but assuring depositors that the assets are ample to pay all their dues. From information obtained from officers of the bank and bank commissioners it appears that the bank had a nominal capital of $150 000 of which $60 000 was paid up The concern has been doing a mixed commercial and savings business in contravention of the law permitting no savings bank to engage in commercial banking with paid up cash capital of less than $300,000 The commercial paper commercial loans are considerably in excess of commercial deposits showing a careless use of savings deposits The assets of the bank are however sufficient with proper management, to pay depositors in full at an early date and perhaps leave something for stockholders Directors announce an intention to levy an assessment if necessary to make depositors good Nearly one third of the stock has been bought in by the bank in settlement with holders Real estate to the amount of something over $100 000 has deteriorated to about $10 000 and there are some $37 000 of bad or doubtful loans There is due depositors about $300 000 The commissioners gave bank authorities their choice of repairing their capital by the addition of about $50,000 and conducting a purely savings business making the paid up cash capital of $300 000 and going on as before or going into liquidation The directors chose the latter course

The Man Arrested as Tom Lawton.

SAN FRANCISCO Sept 3—The steamer Los Angeles from Eureka Humboldt county arrived this evening having among the passengers the man arrested at Crescent City on suspicion of being Tom Lawton one of the Tullis murderers under charge of Sheriff Smith of Humboldt county. The prisoner was lodged in the city prison pending the arrival of parties from Sacramento who know Lawton It seems evident the wrong man has been arrested. The prisoner says that his name is Eugene Lippincott by profession a lightning sketch artist, that he left Vallejo July 5th in pursuit of his vocation and traveled the most of the way on foot to Arcata and Crescent City where he was arrested No sketches or artist's implements were found in his possession in explanation of which he states that his art consists simply in making offhand sketches to order, ornamenting bar mirrors with soap drawings and like perishable work by which he gains a precarious livelihood He says he can easily establish his identity and in proof of his artist ability he has within the brief period of his incarceration in the city prison ornamented the wall of his cell with a well executed full length sketch of a burlesque actress of the most pronounced type Personally he does not answer to the description of Lawton He sports a black moustache too long to have been grown in the time between Lawton's disappearance and the arrest of the prisoner He is too tall for Lawton and lacks the scars on the nose mentioned in the description of that worthy neither has he the swagger attributed to Lawton On the whole while he bears considerable likeness to Lawton as described in a general way there are evident points of difference. Lippincott claims that he can prove that at the time of the Tullis murder he was in Santa Rosa

THE CITY OF LONDON

From the Young Folks World

It is known that London was formerly a Roman encampment and it was commenced two thousand years ago It is now the largest city in the world having a population of four millions The government of Great Britain is a limited monarchy and the king or queen resides at London

The principal building of London is the Tower which consists of twelve houses surrounding an open square court They were all built from thirteen to twenty five feet thick The Tower has been used as a palace, prison church and court house White Tower occupies the center of the piazza, behind it is the place where criminals were formerly executed and the spot is now enclosed by an iron railing Here the block still stands It is about as high as the blocks which butchers use but has a groove into which the neck of the criminal fits The ax is about the size of a common broadax just large enough to cut off the head with one blow It is now standing against the block rusty for it has not been used for more than two hundred years

Facing this court is the house in which Sir Walter Raleigh was confined During his imprisonment he wrote a History of the World At the end of twelve years he was condemned and executed.

Those who have read Shakespeare's Rich and III will remember that that monarch secretly killed and buried two of his nephews who being the lawful heirs to the throne might have caused him trouble A few years ago while making excavations the workmen discovered the bones of the princes in his square The work was discontinued and the place is pointed out to strangers

In the building on the north side, where prisoners were formerly kept the walls are marked up very much The prisoners amused themselves by cutting sentiments in Latin on them It was not until 150 years ago that the English language came into general use in England Previous to that time all records were kept in Latin [illegible]

On the south side of the square is Juel tower In the center of this building is a large show case round like a dome in which are the old crown and jewels, and also those made for Queen Victoria and her husband Albert One of the diamonds in the queen's crown is said to be the largest in the world The scepter is about an inch thick two feet long and is made of solid gold The jewels are worth twelve and a half millions of dollars

St Paul's cathedral is situated at the head of Ludgate Hill It was built by Sir Christopher Wren, who was architect from the time it was commenced in 1675 until its completion It was dedicated in 1710 thus requiring thirty five years to complete it

The house of parliament is of Gothic architecture nine hundred feet long six hundred wide three hundred and twenty high and has three towers It covers eight acres and cost ten millions of dollars The house of parliament consists of the house of lords and the house of commons In the former which corresponds to our senate, is the throne from which the queen delivers her annual message

BUTLER LABORER

HE IS FOUND TO HAVE BAGGED THE BIGGEST FEE ON RECORD—A GRAB IN ADMIRALTY EXCELLING ANYTHING EVER HEARD OF IN CHANCERY

[Washington Telegram to Chicago Tribune.]

The correspondent of the Philadelphia Times who has examined the subject sends to his paper to night a remarkable story about Gen Butler of which the following are the substantial parts

Certain facts have recently been discovered which seem to show that Gen Butler's professions of devotion to the laboring man and to the soldiers and sailors are not allowed to interfere with his own interests but that on the contrary he does not scruple to use his relations to the classes named to increase his immense worldly gains Some six years ago congress passed a law, said to have been engineered by Gen Butler himself enabling the supreme court of the district of Columbia to adjudicate the capture of New Orleans as a naval prize

The court made an award of some $900 000, to be distributed among the officers and sailors of Farragut's fleet As the cotton and other articles coming under the head of prizes captured at New Orleans had been appropriated by the government there was of course no condemnation of any prize The money came out of the treasury in bulk The court by a curious coincidence appointed as proctors Gen Butler the reputed author of the scheme and Nathaniel Wilson Their duties were of the most nominal character, and so easy of execution that lawyers say the youngest attorney at the bar could have performed them Gen Butler himself did little Mr Wilson did more and some young attorneys were hired to take testimony and were paid a few hundred dollars Accounting officers of the treasury accustomed by years of experience to know the value of the services of Gen Butler and Mr Wilson say that about $5 000 would have been a large fee for the services they performed in connection with the Farragut prize

Yet these gentlemen mentioned obtained the monstrous allowance of $142,000 as a fee perhaps unprecedented in legal history These gentlemen will doubtless claim and justly that the sum named as a compensation to them was decreed by the court It certainly was but it is none the less an enormous compensation, and came out of a fund which by the act of congress rightfully belonged to the soldiers and sailors and their widows and orphans and should rightly have been accepted by a disinterested [illegible] the [illegible] the proceeds [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] money [illegible] Butler and [illegible] Wilson [illegible] satisfied with [illegible] [illegible] themselves [illegible] in addition to the extraordinary fees above mentioned the officers of Farragut's fleet paid Gen Butler for his service

PERPETUITY OF THE OFFICE OF STATE SUPERINTENDENT

AN ADDRESS [illegible] BEFORE THE [illegible] AT THE [illegible] BY [illegible]

Published by order of the institute

It is with [illegible] regret that I lay aside the necessity for the discussion of this question I regret that [illegible] in the hands of the educators of the legislators or of the people of our state. But we can not shut our eyes to the [illegible] [illegible] the clanging of swords is distinctly heard from [illegible] guards the [illegible] state

It now becomes the people of the state of Oregon to impartially consider the best interests of this question and to act accordingly It becomes us as citizens of the state and helpers in the work of elevating [illegible] to look well into the matter and see that we are not hasty in our conclusions in regard to that which is a matter of vital importance to the educational interests of the state or else is a useless and expensive appendage to its machinery

There will probably never be a better time for [illegible] this question than the present. There has been a fair trial of the state superintendency and the success attending the work when connected with the governor's office

A careful survey of these results causes me to conclude that the state superintendent's office is indispensable as the head of a public school system for the following reasons

First The governor will probably lack fitness for the work required of a superintendent of instruction He is not elected with a view to his fitness for this office but for one whose duties are as different as possible A man may be well qualified to fill the chair of chief executive of the state and have no idea of the proper workings of school nor of what constitutes a school system He is elected because he is a politician not because he is an educator In fact the two are incompatible and are seldom found in the same individual To employ a man to build a frame dwelling simply because he is a good stone mason or to conduct an intricate case in court because he is a good physician, would be considered the height of nonsense, but not more so than to combine in one office two sets of duties as unlike as are those trades or professions

Secondly It does not meet the demands for economy A proper economy is always commendable and the people of this state are not only at liberty to do so but it is their duty to see that proper economy is exercised in the administration of the affairs of state The welfare of every state interest demands this and if it is shown that to give the work of school superintendent alone to a man is bad economy its abandonment might well be considered Let us first look at it from the standpoint of dollars and cents alone To throw this work upon the governor as is proposed will necessitate an increase of clerical force The clerk or secretary to whom this business is entrusted must be paid as much as twelve hundred dollars per year Experience shows that clerical aid costs the state about ten dollars for every dollar of regular salary Putting it at half that, we have the sum of six thousand dollars for getting this business attended to in the governor's office It may be said that an increase of the present clerical force would not be necessary If this be true the present force is unnecessarily large and should be immediately reduced. By the statute the state superintendent gets a salary of $1 500 per annum and his office and traveling expenses making the whole cost to the state, for the entire time that we have had a state superintendency, about two thousand dollars per annum or one third what it would cost to have the work imperfectly done in connection with the governor's office. Thus we see that the argument of economy the only argument that can be made for the abolition of the office is a fallacy Even though we throw aside these facts and admit that to destroy the head of our school system would save dollars and cents to the state it would be the same sort of economy that would cause a man to build a substantial foundation and erect a fine building on it but in order to save a few dollars would leave it without a roof

The third reason is the impossibility of doing the work also likely required to make our school system a success without a competent man to engage his whole attention upon that alone Those who are acquainted with the work attached to the different state offices will concede that there is more hard office labor attached to the office of school superintendent than any of the others, to say nothing of the traveling and lecturing holding institutes and a multitude of little things necessary to arouse and maintain the [illegible] of the state board of education shall jointly perform the work of the superintendent This is backed up with the plea for economy A far more sensible plan would be to dispense with one of the other two offices to which there is less work attached It would be more sensible and more respectable to abolish the office of governor more sensible because the duties of the governor's office can be better discharged by other state officials than can the duties of school superintendent and more respectable because any effort even to abolish the superintendency is a stroke at the intelligence of the people It is saying to the world that in Oregon we care less for the intellectual culture of coming generations than anything else and to begin to economize by cutting off the head of our educational system such a course would be a burning shame a lasting disgrace to our state.

We have now had six years of school superintendence and the man who will say that the schools have not been made more efficient in consequence shows by that that he has not taken the trouble to investigate the matter He has probably never attended an institute to see the enthusiasm awakened by this means in the teachers with an immediate effect upon the schools causing every dollar paid for teaching to bring a larger return in good discipline and more thorough and more practical training in the school room

The fourth reason why the state superintendency should be perpetuated is found in the history of other states. It may be safely set down as the rule that the success of the public school systems in the different states has varied with the efficiency of the state superintendency in connection with proper county superintendence. Look at the admirable school system of Pennsylvania. She has just grounds for pride that the efficiency of her schools has brought her to the notice of the world's educators How came this high degree of success? It is the result of the untiring energy of the honored superintendent of public instruction James P Wickersham

The young state of Illinois comes forward to claim a large share of honor for one of the most efficient school systems coupled with enthusiastic and successful teaching Why do we think of her above her sister states in the educational work? Newton Bateman long her honored superintendent has caused the difference making the schools and school laws an honor to the garden state and at the same time making for himself a name that can never perish

It is not necessary at present to go through the whole catalogue of states to see that the success of the school systems varies with the efficiency of their superintendence. We look again to ourselves, to our present and our future We are living at an important period in our state's history The eyes of the world are being turned toward Oregon as has never been the case in the past Immigration is flowing in rapidly, and the tide has just set in. It will increase until we shall have one of the most thickly populated states of the union Unless provision is made for the education of this dense population our institutions and our society must suffer The intellectual growth of the state must keep pace with its material development or there will be an abnormal condition of society that will not make our situation an enviable one The masses can never be reached by any other educational agency than the public school Hence it becomes the people of our state, and our legislators as their representatives to look to our educational interests as of the first importance Let retrenchment begin anywhere else but let our school interests be unimpaired I have too much confidence in the good sense of our legislators to believe that they will allow any political or other influence to cause them to strike the death blow to our school system and do damage that it would take years to repair, by abolishing the state superintendency

THE TRANSPORTATION QUESTION.

A question of the times is, "How shall we cheapen transportation?" A writer in Scribner for September proposes to answer it. Premising that the profits on agriculture and on manufactured articles constitute to a great extent the national wealth, and that these profits depend largely on the cost and facilities of transportation, the writer proceeds with facts and proofs to show that railways on the narrow gauge system offer a solution of this problem, doing away with cumbersome, inefficient and needlessly expensive methods, and utilizing a power often wasted in the operation of broad gauge roads, especially in those places where the volume of business is not very large. It should be stated, however, that the writer takes quite a thorough and radical view of his subject; he believes that on all broad gauge roads there is great waste of power and unnecessary expense, and in consequence that the narrow gauge system can be made fully adequate to the entire business of the country, at a great saving of capital and consequent reduction of the cost of transportation.

Conceding that these assertions need proofs he proceeds to state them. The proofs are offered on these points, viz.: first, saving in construction; second, in equipment; third, in dead weight; fourth, in increased relative power to carry freight; fifth, decrease in wear and tear; sixth, decrease in running expenses. Beyond these positions there is an attempt at demonstrating how purely freight roads on the narrow gauge plan can be made to pay.

In the matter of construction the saving cannot be definitely ascertained till it is determined what shall be the standard narrow gauge. If it be three feet, or three feet six, the saving will, however, be not less than forty per cent. Actual and varied experiences have established this conclusion. The Railway Times estimates the cost on ordinary routes at $13,500, against $24,000 for the four feet eight and half inch grade. The New York Tribune after exhaustive examination, fixes on nearly this ratio of cost; and it is found by experience in construction of the longest narrow gauge road yet built, the Denver and Rio Grande, that this comparison of cost for similar routes is as nearly accurate as possible. But either style of road may be built over an easy country at less proportionate cost. The saving in equipment is even more significant. The difference in weight, capacity and cost between eight wheeled cars for a four feet eight and a half inch and a three feet six inch gauge is given as follows: Three feet six inches,—weight, 8,800 lbs; capacity, 17,600; cost, $458. Four feet eight and a half inches, weight, 19,000; capacity, 18,000; cost, $335. It will be seen that the former carries at the rate of two pounds of freight to one of weight of car, while the latter carries only its own weight of freight, or even less. The figures are said to be made up by comparison of actual working weight on the Denver and Rio Grande narrow gauge, as compared with that on the Pennsylvania road. It is thus shown that the saving in dead weight in narrow gauge cars to carry 100 tons weight is 103,000 lbs. On a three feet track there is found to be an average carriage of [illegible] to carry freight is beyond dead weight. But actual statistics show that the four feet eight inch gauge uses four tons of dead weight to carry one ton of freight; and thus all freight on passenger roads is carried at double the expense at which it could be carried on pure freight roads. The decreased wear and tear is very great, the ratio being as 20 is to 50 in favor of the narrow gauge. Decrease of running expenses is quite as significant, the cost of running the narrow gauge being less than one-half the cost of running the other.

So much for the narrow gauge in general. For local roads the subject is one which is of present interest to ourselves. Roads of this class, cheaply built, will solve the problem of transportation for all the isolated sections of our country. Whether such roads shall eventually supersede the broad gauge trunk lines or not, it is apparent that they are destined to become our main reliance for local transportation. Their cheapness and proven capacity fully settle this question.

A NECESSARY QUALIFICATION.

The traditions of the Democratic party of the United States are all in favor of the principles of sound money, and against all paper currency delusions and impostures. In Oregon the intelligence of the party is wholly opposed to the fallacies and follies of those who preach the doctrine of irredeemable greenbacks. This financial question is undeniably the coming issue in our politics. Indeed it is the present vital issue. If the Democratic party of Oregon would not stultify itself and renounce all its historic principles, it will now elect to the senate some man who is a known supporter of sound monetary principles. It will insist on this as one of the leading and even indispensable conditions. Nor need it go a-begging for men. It has a number of first rate ability, who, with other qualifications, will fill this requirement also. Some we wot of are trying to dodge this question, or to be discreetly silent upon it. Fearing they may lose votes they dare not avow that they are either for sound money or for an irredeemable and redundant stuff that falsifies the name of money. Now it is a duty which the hard money Democrats of the legislature owe to the country to see that no man is elected who is not known to be opposed to the pernicious and destructive financial theories now so commonly advocated. The country doesn't want to turn back and fall again into the abyss of inflation and all its attendant evils. It is just struggling out of this position, and greatest care should be taken that every man who is sent to the national legislature is entirely right on this question.

Just before the election last June, Delegate Jacobs, of Washington territory, at the instance of Senator Mitchell, telegraphed to Oregon that a letter had been received from President Wright of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, urging that the bill as passed by the senate should be passed also by the house. Now we affirm again, as we affirmed at the time, that President Wright's letter was purposely misstated. This letter was written by Wright in reply to a letter addressed to him by Mitchell and Jacobs, and must be in possession at this time of one or other of them. We assert that publication of this letter would verify all we have said as to objections by President Wright to the bill as passed by the senate. The fact is the company do not nor ever did accept the senate bill as passed. Now if we are mistaken about this let that letter be published.

The philosophy of the Argonaut is good. It says the hard times in San Francisco are only an epidemic of the imagination, and will not abate so long as business men go about the streets as mourners. Such coward faces, such despondent tones, such lugubrious melancholy, colorious airs as business men put on are something marvelous. If owners of real estate, merchants, mechanics and business men would stop gambling in stocks, look jolly, get up a carnival, swear that everything looks encouraging and put on a stiff upper lip, we could restore affairs to a more prosperous condition. There is a great deal of philosophy in whistling through a graveyard.

It was a preposterous notion that we could induce Europe to accept our silver scheme. European economists listened courteously, of course, for men in public affairs there are trained and bred in an atmosphere of courtesy and urbanity; but after listening they quietly dissolved the conference as the only way of sparing our representatives deeper humiliation. Meantime in our own country, though the silver dollar is being coined rapidly, it will not circulate. Not one person in a hundred ever sees one. It would have been a pity, indeed, had congress adjourned without giving the country the great relief it has obtained through the silver bill!

We cheerfully give place to Mr. J. B. Montgomery's statement relative to his stock in the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. It appears that he is owner of 1,310 shares of preferred and 616 shares of common stock, instead of 616 of the preferred and 1,310 of the common. It is nobody's business in particular; but since a good deal has been said about it, any one who has the curiosity may calculate the "present worth" of the stock for himself.

The New York Herald says a project is afoot for the thorough and systematic exploration of the antiquities of the Euphrates valley. It is proposed to organize an expedition to leave England during next spring, the funds for which are to be raised by contributions, the government having refused to lend its aid. The organization for the carrying out of the scheme is to be on the model of the Palestine exploration fund.

Only one Democrat can be elected to the senate. When the multitude of candidates is considered it is enough to make a whole people shudder to think that each one of the luckless number will probably hire a hall and wait for three hours over his defeat. The echoes are likely to last till the next election.

The Black Hills Times estimates the yield of wheat in Dakota this year at fifteen million bushels. So rapidly has the territory been filling with inhabitants, particularly on the line of the Northern Pacific railroad, that it is not probable this is much overestimated.

KEARNEY, STATESMAN.

HIS VISIT TO THE DEPARTMENTS—DENSE IGNORANCE BROUGHT TO THE FRONT.

[Washington Special, Aug. 29.]

Kearney's visits to the departments are evidently designed to magnify his own importance. The visit that was the least acceptable to him was perhaps that at the treasury department, where he paid his respects to Acting Secretary of the Treasury Hawley. The latter replied with earnestness to Kearney's general raid upon bondholders, and showed him most conclusively two facts, first, that the four per cent. bonds, at which Kearney rails, are being largely taken in sums of $50 [illegible] they have lost confidence, to the government, which they will trust, unless such demagogues as Kearney undermine their faith in it. Second, that out of nearly $1,800,000,000 of United States securities outstanding, not more than $200,000,000 are in Europe, and that the remaining $1,600,000,000 are the property of Americans. Kearney said he was for greenbacks. Hawley asked him what he meant by greenbacks—whether the greenbacks of war times, when gold was 235, or greenbacks worth nearly dollar for dollar with gold. To similar questions Kearney, whose ignorance is even more dense than his speeches indicate, replied in a shuffling, evasive way, saying, "we had better not talk about that."

Dead Sure about a Third Term.

[From the Pittsburg Gazette.]

It is now stated to be the plan of General Grant to spend the coming winter in India and China, and in the spring of 1879 to return to this country, entering the Golden Gate and spending some time in California. It is also said that politicians urge him to return speedily, but that he refuses to gratify them. In this he is wise. He steadily gains strength, and his presence in the country cannot possibly add to his popularity with the people. Returning in June next he will be here one year before the national convention—which will be long enough. He is the coming candidate, and there need be no anxiety over that matter.

Burlington Hawkeye: It will give this poor country the ague any time in the next fifty years to hear an Ohio man mentioned for president. And still we shouldn't see why an Ohio man shouldn't make a good president.

BROWN HEARD FROM.—A farmer na[illegible] P. McDonald, who resides near th[illegible] town of Springville, about six mile[illegible] Portland, arrived at the police headq[illegible] yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock, br[illegible] with him a pair of boots which, from [illegible] appearances, must have belonged to the [illegible] and murderer, Archie Brown. McD[illegible] says that he left his cabin a week a[illegible] Sunday and went over on the island [illegible] some harvest work. He did not retur[illegible] cabin until Monday. During his a[illegible] some one had entered his cabin and [illegible] away a pair of shoes, a lot of meat[illegible] flour, a coat, a hat, a pair of draw[illegible] some other articles. In their stead he [illegible] a pair of boots much worn. These [illegible] answer, in every respect, the pair de[illegible] by the boy Swards as bel[illegible] to Brown. McDonald, on finding [illegible] boots, became convinced that they belo[illegible] one of the escaped murderers and b[illegible] them to the police station. The statem[illegible] McDonald is corroborated by the foll[illegible] Last Friday a man named John Watts [illegible] walking through the timber near the b[illegible] a short distance below Sprin[illegible] the river came suddenly on a man who was fast [illegible] He was lying under the edge of th[illegible] screened by the overhanging brush. [illegible] could not see his face, but thought at o[illegible] Johnson and Brown. He had no w[illegible] with him, but recollecting that his b[illegible] who was near by, had a gun, he hastene[illegible] him. However, his brother had n[illegible] so that the weapon was useless. [illegible] Watts' dog discovered the ma[illegible] began to bark, which aroused him fr[illegible] slumber. When Watts and his brothe[illegible] back to the spot they saw the fellow r[illegible] fast as he could toward the dense [illegible] at hand. On going to the plac[illegible] the man had been asleep they found [illegible] of meat, tea, flour, a hat and [illegible] They examined the latter and found [illegible] marked "McDonald." This person [illegible] undoubtedly the one who burglariz[illegible] McDonald's cabin, and in all probability [illegible] other individual than Brown.

CONDITION STILL CRITICAL.—Mr. Ed[illegible] wright, who had the misfortune to [illegible] some days ago, is still lying at [illegible] Hospital in a critical condition, [illegible] by careful nursing and skillful [illegible] treatment it is hoped he may recove[illegible] amputation was rendered necessary b[illegible] nant tumor on the right arm. In their stead he left an old pair of boots much worn. These boots answer in every respect the pair described by the boy Swards as belonging to Brown. McDonald, on finding the boots, became convinced that they belonged to one of the escaped murderers and brought them to the police station. The statement of McDonald is corroborated by the following: Last Friday a man named John Watts, while walking through the timber near the bank of the river a short distance below Springfield, came suddenly on a man who was fast asleep. He was lying under the edge of the bank screened by the overhanging brush. Watts could not see his face, but thought at once of Johnson and Brown. He had no weapon with him, but recollecting that his brother, who was near by, had a gun he hastened back to him. However, his brother had no powder so that the weapon was useless. Meantime Watts' dog discovered the man and began to bark, which aroused him from his slumber. When Watts and his brother came back to the spot they saw the fellow running as fast as he could toward the dense timber near at hand. On going to the place where the man had been asleep they found a quantity of meat, tea, flour, a hat and a coat. They examined the latter and found that it was marked "McDonald." This person was undoubtedly the one who burglarized McDonald's cabin, and in all probability was no other individual than Brown.

Condition Still Critical.—Mr. Ed. Cartwright, who had the misfortune to lose an arm some days ago, is still lying at St. Vincent Hospital in a critical condition. However, by careful nursing and skillful medical treatment, it is hoped he may recover. The amputation was rendered necessary by a malignant tumor on the right arm. Last winter, while Mr. Cartwright was in Washington, he went to one of the gymnasiums there to take some exercise. One of his arms was seriously strained while he was exercising on the parallel bars. The result of the injury was a tumor which had to be removed. Gangreen followed and amputation became necessary to save his life. His many friends will regret to learn of his critical condition, and will be gratified to hear of his speedy convalescence.

Accidentally Killed.—A man named A. J. Pomeroy, formerly a resident of Washington county, was accidentally killed on Deer Island, down the Columbia, on Monday. Pomeroy was engaged in cleaning out a well when the fatal accident occurred. While he was at the bottom a large portion of the earth became detached and caved in. Pomeroy was buried up to his neck. He was not killed outright, and cried out for assistance and held his hands up imploringly for some time. Every possible exertion was made to extricate Pomeroy from his position of peril, but before he could be freed from the earth he was dead. Deceased has a son and several daughters who reside at Forest Grove, and to whom the sad intelligence was communicated.

Lively Runaway.—The usual runaway served to disturb the quietness late yesterday afternoon. A farmer's team, attached to a lumber wagon, became badly frightened about the corner of Washington and First streets, and started pell mell to "go west." Near Second street they ran into Moses' express team, not injuring his horses but breaking the tongue of his wagon to flinders. They dashed on to Fourth street and down that like fury, running till they were about tired out, when they were captured and brought back. One of the horses had his legs badly cut and his hoof split, and the wagon was thoroughly wrecked.

Alpha Society.—The Alpha Literary society, which adjourned last spring for the summer months, will meet at its rooms one week from to-night and reorganize for the coming winter. The society is composed of young people and is the oldest, we believe, in the city. It has a membership of about fifty persons, and has been the means of great social enjoyment and real benefit to its members.

To Summons Jurors.—In about two weeks Capt. R. H. Lamson, clerk of the United States courts, and U. S. Marshal Waters will start out for the purpose of gathering up 150 United States jurors for the next term of the U. S. circuit and district courts. The jurors are to be selected this time from Multnomah, Yamhill and Polk counties—50 from each county.

Prisoners Arrived.—The sheriffs of Walla Walla, Columbia and Pierce counties W. T. arrived here last night from up the Columbia, having in custody nine prisoners, all on their way to the penitentiary at Steilacoom. Among the prisoners were Murphy who stabbed and killed a soldier during a drunken brawl, and Holman who shot his wife.

Meeting—Divine Service.—At Orient schoolhouse, in Multnomah county, near Pleasant Home postoffice, Elder David Brower will hold a three days' meeting of the Brethren or German Baptist, to commence Friday evening, September the 6th, to continue over the Sabbath. A cordial invitation to all.

Officers Elected.—At a late meeting of the members of the Exempt Firemen's Association the following officers were elected: President, A. B. Hallock; vice president, Peter Hardenburg; secretary, S. Norris; treasurer, W. S. Ladd. T. A. Davis and I. C. Miller were elected trustees to serve for two years.

Train Delayed.—The north bound train yesterday was ditched at Jefferson, in consequence of which it did not arrive here until about 8 o'clock last evening. The ditching was caused by the spreading of the track. No one was hurt and no damage resulted. The express train left for the south on time.

Made his Escape.—A gentleman who arrived here last evening from The Dalles, informs us that a prisoner who was confined in the jail at that place effected his escape through a window. He was pursued, but at latest accounts had not been captured.

Cases Continued.—The cases of H. C. Kay and John Roos, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon will come up for examination in police court this afternoon at 1 o'clock. Meantime, both defendants are out on bail.

Will Sail.—The steamship Great Republic will sail from San Francisco for this port this (Wednesday) forenoon with freight and passengers.

CAPTURE OF ARCHIE BROWN.

ANOTHER OF THE TRIO IN THE CLUTCHES OF THE LAW—BROWN'S SEPARATION FROM HIS PALS AND HIS SUBSEQUENT WANDERINGS, WEARY, HUNGRY AND FOOTSORE, TO EVADE JUSTICE—HIS DISCOVERY AND ARREST—WHAT HE SAYS OF HIS LIFE AND HIS CRIMES—HE BLAMES JOHNSON BUT EXCUSES SWARDS.

Last evening about 11 o'clock a wagon drove up to the county jail containing three persons. The name of one was John Cain, the second a man named Joseph Riley, while the third was no other than the notorious Archie Brown, the person who came near murdering Mr. O'Shea and who shot and instantly killed the lad Louis Joseph. On inquiring where the city jail was, the trio were directed to that place. Thither they drove with all haste. On reaching there the prisoner was taken from the wagon and escorted to one of the cells. Brown was securely pinioned—bound hand and foot. At a late hour last evening we called at police headquarters and had a short interview with the prisoner. From him the following facts were learned:

The night on which young Swards was arrested, Brown and Johnson were separated. The night was very dark, and in escaping from the officers, the two men parted and did not meet again. Johnson, it is supposed, took to the mountains. Brown wandered along down the river, sleeping during the day time and traveling during the night. He says he frequently saw armed men during the day from his covert, and could easily at times have shot and killed those who were searching for him. He says he entered the cabin of McDonald and took some provisions and other articles. On the night following the arrest of Swards he said it rained hard and was extremely dark. The rain rendered his pistol useless, and he said that if he had been found that night he would have surrendered without the least resistance. He wandered about and did not know where to go. Everybody was watching for him and he was afraid to attempt to leave the country. After he was discovered asleep under the bank of the river and had to run to escape capture he had nothing to eat, as he left everything behind in his flight.

About four days ago he went to the house of John Cain, some 11 miles below this city, and asked for lodging, which was given him. He remained at Cain's four nights, so he alleges. During the night he slept at the house, but each day he went out to look for work. At first he was not suspected. Monday he chanced to pick up a paper which contained a description of Johnson and himself. He was fearful lest Cain or some of his family would suspect him, so he cut the description. Cain's daughter, who, it seems, had some suspicions from the first that Brown was one of the murderers, became convinced that such was the case after he cut out the description of himself. She told her father yesterday morning she felt certain he was one of the guilty parties. Her father also became well satisfied that her suspicions were not without foundation, so he determined to arrest him. When Brown returned to his house yesterday evening, after being absent most of the day, Cain and a man named Joseph Riley came in on him unawares while he was sitting in one of the rooms, and demanded him to "throw up his hands." Being covered by a double barrel shotgun, Brown had no alternative but to surrender. He said he was worn out, and exhausted from hunger and privation. On surrendering Brown was tied securely, placed in a wagon and conveyed to this city. He was arrested about 7 o'clock—just about dusk. He says he has no idea where Johnson can be; thinks he cannot be far away from the city.

Brown says that he struck O'Shea over the head when they went through the place. The first blow he dealt was very heavy and the last two quite light. Says he did not intend to kill him, only to stun him. Johnson, he alleges, went through the safe and took all the watches and money.

All that happened after they were detected was merely the result of chance. They were discovered, and Brown said he knew they must get away the best they could. He was the first one who leaped through the back window, and was followed by the others. They climbed over the fence and, passing through the store, came out on First street. They were closely followed by the officer, who continued to gain on them. Johnson told the officer not to follow, but he did not heed it and came on after them. When the officer got pretty close Johnson said to Brown, "Give it to him." Brown then stopped and fired his pistol. He says he did not intend to kill the officer, only to scare and keep him back. He said "The ball missed the officer, struck a tree and glancing killed a boy, so I saw by the papers." He added, with a sigh, "I suppose I'll have to suffer the consequences."

Brown is inclined to lay the most of the blame of the whole matter on Johnson and states that the latter put up the job and led him into it. He says they went up to Oregon City a few days before the robbery, intending to burglarize the postoffice there, Johnson being acquainted there. They were, however, so closely watched by the police that they gave that job up and returned to Portland. He says, moreover, that Johnson "spotted" O'Shea's place and talked him into the robbery—he at first refusing to participate in the robbery. He moreover says their plans were made without consulting the boy Swards, who, he says, did nothing in the commission of the crime and was led, at least partially, unwillingly into the matter.

Brown has been described as a great desperado, and we had expected to see a different looking phiz. He is by no means a hard looking customer as one might expect to see in the leader in such a bold and atrocious crime. Were he clean shaved and dressed hundreds of worse looking men might be found any day on the streets of Portland, evidence of the fact that appearances are by no means reliable, and that a fair countenance and manner may often belong to a man with a bad heart. He is now safe in prison, and will have time to reflect on his evil deeds, and the law will mete out to him the punishment due to his enormous violation of its command is not to rob or kill. He says he came from San Francisco, and that his true name is Avery.

At the time of Brown's capture he had on his person two pistols, one of which he says belongs to Johnson and the other was taken from O'Shea's safe. He also had four fine gold watches, which in all probability were taken from O'Shea. He is evidently thoroughly worn out and has been living since the robbery on short rations.

A SHOCKING MURDER.

AN OLD MAN KILLED FOR A PALTRY SUM OF MONEY—THE BODY SHOCKINGLY MUTILATED—HIS SON-IN-LAW UNDER ARREST FOR THE CRIME.

Recently there was a statement that an old man named Wilson, of Wallowa valley, was missing. He had been out on a hunting expedition, with his son-in-law, Joseph Coffman, and the story was that they had separated and the old man was supposed to be lost. After several days Wilson's body was found near where he was last seen. It was shockingly mutilated, as if to create the impression that the murder had been done by Indians. But all the signs show that it was done by one man. The old man had about $200 in money, and to get this is supposed to have been the motive for the murder. All signs point to Coffman as the guilty person, and he is now under arrest. The head of Wilson was cut entirely off one of the arms was severed from the body, the face was mutilated, and the remains were dragged some distance into the brush and covered over with dirt and leaves. It would seem that the country never before was shocked with so many most atrocious crimes.

The C. O. D. Grocery, as we predicted, is already compelled to enlarge its premises. Their trade is simply enormous, and rapidly increasing. They have an advantage over all competing firms in this—that they first put the prices down—and now a few are attempting to imitate them and follow in their wake. But it is too thin; the public can easily see whether it is from choice or necessity that they lower their goods. The C. O. D. Grocery will yet shake them from center to circumference, and create a general revolution in retail grocery prices—at least we hope so.

Davidson Brothers step to the front with a big reduction in the prices of photo. work. Card photographs $1 50 and cab nets $3 per dozen. Their special artist for outside work—Mr. A. H. Wulzen—has no equal in the state.

A CORRECTION.

PORTLAND, Sept. 3, 1878.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

This morning you published a scurrilous communication charging me with misrepresenting my interest in the Northern Pacific Railroad. I telegraphed to-day to George E. Beebee, treasurer of the company, asking him "how much preferred and common stock stood in my name on the books of the company on the 20th of March, 1878, and how much now?" I send you his answer, which shows "Vancouver" to be a falsifier. It is no interest to this community to know what stock I own or do not own; but it is a matter of great interest to me that I am not made out a liar by an irresponsible blackguard like "Vancouver." I ask you to publish this as an act of justice:

NEW YORK, Sept. 3, 1878.

James B. Montgomery, Portland, Oregon: Thirteen hundred and ten shares preferred stock then and now; six hundred and sixteen shares common stock then and now.

GEORGE E. BEEBEE, Treasurer N. P. R. R.

I took the preferred stock (then first mortgage bonds) from the company five years ago at about five times the price mentioned in your paper yesterday, viz at 60 per cent.

By universal accord, Ayer's Cathartic Pills are the best of all purgatives for family use. They are the product of long, laborious, and successful chemical investigation, and their extensive use by Physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations proves them the best and most effectual purgative Pill that medical science can devise. Being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use. In intrinsic value and curative powers no other Pills can be compared with them, and every person knowing their virtues, will employ them, when needed. They keep the system in perfect order, and maintain in healthy action the whole machinery of life. Mild, searching and effectual, they are specially adapted to the needs of the digestive apparatus, derangements of which they prevent and cure, if timely taken. They are the best and safest physic to employ for children and weakened constitutions, where a mild, but effectual, cathartic is required. For sale by all dealers.

TO THE PUBLIC.

It unwillingly becomes my duty to inform the public that a certain would-be high toned competing firm are now, through jealousy, resorting to falsehood and villification in order to gain patronage, etc. My reputation for fair dealing with customers has never yet been questioned by my patrons, and it has remained for those villifiers to attempt by misrepresentation to injure a legitimate and honorably-conducted business. I have always sold goods cheaper than they could be purchased elsewhere, and I am now determined to make further reductions. The people can, as heretofore, find at my establishment a full line of first class goods at moderate prices. Call and see and be convinced.

PLEASURE BOATS.

JOHN LACHAPELLE, Boat Builder, is prepared to furnish Boats for Sale or Rent, at any moment. Boat House foot of Pine street.

Dr. Mintie's Vegetable Nephreticum.

Does it cure all? No! It is intended for diseases of the Kidney and Bladder. This great Tonic supplies a want long felt by a certain class of sufferers, and is taking a high rank among remedial agents in this country. First, Because it is made SPECIALLY for Kidney and Bladder complaints, the different ingredients of which it is composed acting conjointly upon the muscular and mucous coats of these organs. Second, The combination is the result of large experience and careful study, both of the organs and their diseases. Third, The best materials (which are purely vegetable) are selected and used in its manufacture. In acute inflammation of the Kidneys or Bladder, pain or heaviness in the back and loins, with drowsiness and feeling of languor, the NEPHRETICUM will give immediate relief, and a free use a perfect cure, by strictly following directions. Price $1.25.

Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Pills.

Do they cure everything? No. They are intended for diseases that result from malarial poison and a deranged liver. Symptoms of a disordered liver—dull pain in the side and shoulders, loss of appetite, coated tongue, costive bowels, sick headache, drowsiness, weight in the stomach, often acting with acidity and belching up of wind, low spirits, loss of energy, unsociability, and forebodings of evil. Delay is dangerous. Many of the leading citizens of Portland, from experience will vouch as to the superior virtue and value of these two specialties. Price 25 cents per box. To be obtained of all druggists.

BEAUTY:

OR, THE

Secret of a Fair Face.

An Item of Interest to Every Lady who Desires to be More Beautiful than she now is.

Unfortunately not one woman in a hundred, subjected to the whims of an American climate, possesses that basis and starting point of real beauty—a pure and clear complexion. What nature has thus denied, art must be called upon to furnish. It can be done; it is done daily. Prof. W. E. Hagan placed beauty within the reach of every unblessed daughter of Eve when he discovered that surprising article known in fashionable circles as the true secret of beauty, and called

MAGNOLIA BALM

The Magnolia Balm is a sure device for creating a pure and blooming complexion. It conceals all natural blemishes in the most surprising and effective manner. It removes all roughness, eruptions, redness, blotches, freckles, and tan with magical power. It drives away all evidence of fatigue and excitement. It makes the plainest face beautiful. It gives the complexion a dazzling purity and makes the neck, face, and arms appear graceful, rotund and plump. It makes a matron of 35 or 40 look not more than 20 years old, and changes the rustic maiden into a cultivated city belle.

The Magnolia Balm removes all blemishes and conceals every drawback to beauty; and while it is as harmless as water, it is so lifelike in its effects that the closest observer cannot detect its use. Ladies who want to make themselves attractive can make an absolute certainty of it by using Hagan's Magnolia Balm, and we know of no other way. It is the cheapest preparation in the world, all things considered, and may be had at any drug store.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Financial.

TUESDAY EVENING, Sept. 3, 1878.

Legal tenders in Portland—buying 99¼; selling, par.

Silver coin—2@2½ per cent. discount.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—M.—Currency—96½ buy; par sell.

Silver—98 buy; 98½ sell.

Trade Dollars—96½ buy; 97 sell.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Gold, 100¼.

Silver bullion 1 000 fine, $1 14 per fine ounce.

U. S. bonds, 5 20's of 1867, 105½; 5's of 1881, 106¼.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—Consols, 94 11-16, money; 94 15-16 account.

Silver—English standard, per ounce of 925 fine, 52⅛, 5⅛, 7½; 4½'s, 5½.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—3 P. M.—5s close 1 6¼; 4½s closed 3¾.

The local market in both the financial and trade departments is manifesting a good degree of activity. The supply of capital offering in the way of loans is quite large, and borrowers who can command the requisite securities find no difficulty in procuring all needed accommodations. The rates of discount and interest on loans remain about as they have been for the past six months—at 10@12 per cent. per annum on all important transactions, though small sums are let out by brokers only on commissions which make borrowers pay much more.

The San Francisco rate is now reported as follows: Commercial bank rates are 8½@10 per cent. for good commercial paper, 5@7½ for gilt edged securities, and 4½@7 for call loans. Savings banks loan at 8@10 per cent. on improved city property, and 10@12 per cent. on country estate.

The Bank of England recently raised its rate to 5 per cent., and the commercial writers in this and other countries are paying the fact a good deal of close attention. Some of them draw the conclusion that the Queen of the Sea is losing her power in the control of the world's business.

The Wool Clip.

Statistics, well authenticated, of the wool clip of the United States for the current year show that it is about 3 per cent. greater than its immediate predecessor. New England fell off about 5 per cent., the three north middle states 3 per cent., the Pacific states 9 per cent. All other sections show an increase; the four south middle states (Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia,) 1½ per cent.; the four south Atlantic cotton states (North Atlantic to Florida), 2½ per cent.; the six west cotton states (Alabama to Tennessee), 14 per cent., the north central states, (Kentucky to Wisconsin), 1¾ per cent.; states west of Mississippi, 4 per cent.

English Markets.

LONDON, Sept. 3—3 P. M.—Floating cargoes, quiet but steady; cargoes on passage and for prompt shipment, market steady; Mark Lane market firm. Quotations of good cargoes, off coast, per 480 lbs sea damage for seller's account, less usual 2½ per cent. commission; Med. Ch. or Mil. wheat, 45s 6d; red winter, 46s 6d@47s; California, 51s.

Shipping wheat, fair average California, on passage, per 100 lbs, Queenstown for orders, just shipped, 47s 6d; nearly due, 50s; Ch. or Mil., for shipment during present month and following one, per 480 lbs, Am. terms, 43s.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 31.—3 P. M.—Wheat market on spot, strong at the following quotations: Fair to choice shipping California, per cental, 10s 3d@10s 7d; fair to choice shipping club, per cental, 10s 7d@10s 10; red Am. spring, No. 2 to No. 1, 9s 4d@9s 10d.

English country markets—Generally dearer; French country markets, steady.

Arrivals off coast moderate.

Farmers' deliveries past week, 80@35,000 qrs.

Stock in Liverpool, 200@210,000 qrs.

The Oat Crop.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The condition of oats as shown by the August returns to the agricultural department, is represented to be 100, average of July 101. The crop is affected from extreme heat and other unfavorable influences of July. All the Atlantic states north of South Carolina, except Massachusetts and Connecticut, show a decline, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida show an improvement. Winter sowing has given increased vitality to the crop. Alabama, Mississippi and Arkansas show a decline. Louisiana and Tennessee raised their standard. West Virginia and Kentucky fall off from their previous high figures. Of states north of the Ohio river, Ohio, Michigan and Missouri show improvement. All others report a decline, also California. The crop enjoyed varied condition of growth in Mississippi valley and on the Pacific coast. The extreme range of variation is between 70 in Delaware and 113 in Tennessee. Most of the states ranged between 105 and 95.

San Francisco Produce and General Markets.

[FIRST DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.

Barley—Fair quality, $1.

Oats—Oregon feed quoted at $1 60.

Corn—$1 75 offered for large white.

Eggs—Large receipts of Utah by express.

Butter—Fair to good fresh roll is accumulating; choice to extra choice is scarcer; demand for choice pickled good at 24@27c. There is very little demand for packed, the best of which is worth 23c.

Hops—Washington territory contracts for new-made at 12½c.

Wool—Quiet.

Hides—Market firm and demand fair.

Rice—An advance is expected.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN,

His Wonderful Success IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL Chronic and Acute Diseases,

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female. He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease, in plain and comprehensive language. But where he has found them crushed and broken down by disease, mentally and physically, he has restored them to health and happiness, for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness.

DR. BRENAN has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases: Catarrh, Bronchitis, and all diseases of the throat and chest, by an entirely new system only known to himself, Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs, including Spermatorrhea, Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood. In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his astonishing success, not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States. Diseases of the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of, and never fails to give relief at once, and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time.

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints, and understands their delicate and refined organization, as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health.

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE over most physicians—he can tell the patients' disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual. This accounts in part for his great professional success.

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand and the patient need not fear the result.

DR. BRENAN will send to those living at a distance and who cannot well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally, and will forward the proper medicines, or instruments, to any part of the country with full instructions and advice. Each letter requiring advice or list of questions, must contain two postage stamps.

Everything strictly confidential and honorable.

THE DOCTOR has studied in the best Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify.

CAUTION.

Persons coming to Portland, requiring medical treatment of the proper kind, who desire to consult with me, will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so-called Doctors, through pretended friendship for the patients. Look out for them: they are knaves, prompted by selfish motives and what they can make. Be sure and ask for DR. PAUL M. BRENAN, the Medical Lecturer, and read his sign on his door.
